COACH . AUTHOR . SPEAKER . PODCASTER . CREATIVE STRATEGIST

Elisa Pulliam is passionate about inspiring this generation of women to experience a fresh encounter with God and His Word for the sake of impacting the next generation with Kingdom hope!

In spite of not growing up in a Christian home, and spending many years in rebellion, Lisa (which is what she prefers to be called and there's a story about that) came to know Jesus Christ as her personal Savior in the fall of 1993. Ever since, the Lord has been in the process of transforming her from the outside in and inside out. It's this first-hand encounter with God that motivates her to inspire women to pursue God personally and join Him in work in their lives.

Elisa has been involved in youth and women's ministries for more than two decades, spending 18 years at Christian boarding and day school, thanks to her husband's profession as a high school teacher. Being immersed in such a unique community is what inspired Elisa to launch MoretoBe.com in the fall of 2011 as well as write Impact Together: Biblical Mentoring Simplified and the ENGAGE Bible Study Series for tween and teen girls.

Soon after launching More to Be, however, Elisa discovered that there was an equally important need to reach women stuck in a rut of poor habits and unhealthy thinking, and began shifting the ministry focus towards women seeking spiritual growth and life transformation. She became a certified life coach and later joined Life Breakthrough Academy as a life coach trainer, having no idea at the time that God would use this experience in the writing of Meet the New You: A 21-Day Plan for Embracing Fresh Attitudes and Focused Habits for Real Life Change.

Elisa's latest release is a 90-day devotional for women in all seasons and stages of life, Unblinded Faith: Gaining Spiritual Sight Through Believing God's Word, truly reflects the heartbeat of ministry as well as the More to Be Podcast.

Elisa believes each moment of each day belongs to the Lord and strives to be emotionally present and eternally purposed, especially with her husband of 22 years, Stephen, and her four tween through college age children.

With beautiful integrity and an open heart, Elisa encourages women to embrace life.

BeLoved, Be Free

embracing the life God created you to live

What keeps a woman from experiencing the life God intended for her? Elisa believes the greatest obstacles is hidden within her heart and mind.

Elisa describes her salvation moment in that London dorm room more than 25 years ago as her exit strategy with no expectation of what life on earth could look like. She had no idea that Love would fill her soul and change her life . . . taking her anger and her pain . . . that Jesus was able to free her to live the life she longed for . . . a life in which could be the wife and mom and friend she always wanted to become.

When Elisa finally let God into the deepest part of her heart and mind, He completely changed her from the inside out. She believes that's what He wants to do for every single one of His daughters. Not when they get it all together. Not once justice has been done. Not once they have it figured all out. But now, so that they will know they are His beloved, set free to lead the life He intended.

Walk with Me: Because We're Better Together

simplifying biblical mentoring and cross-wiring the generations together

Inspired by her personal testimony of being wooed to Jesus and the beautiful work God accomplished in her through 18 years living as a faculty wife at a boarding school, Lisa brings forth a message of biblical hope, transformation, and kingdom impact. She unpacks the beauty of cultivating parakaleo relationships -- a Greek word that reveals the heart of a Biblical mentoring through teaching the whole of Titus 2.

Elisa simplifies biblical mentoring through debunking the myths, addressing the excuses, and laying out the six simple steps of mentoring. Lisa also brings her passion for multi-generational communities to play with thorough teaching on generational differences, with a focus on how to develop life-giving, healthy-working relationships within a family, church, school, ministry, or organization.

With humility, Lisa pours out her heart. Her transparency and genuine passion to share God's healing grace and power in her life have touched those dealing with issues of abuse, relationships, sex, marriage, abandonment and forgiveness. Her story has been used to penetrate masks and walls and probe the deeper issues of the heart's cry for fulfillment.
- Amy Helm, Youth Leader

Lisa was authentic, biblical, humorous at times, and connected well with her audience. Her openness in sharing ministered on a deeper-than-surface level. - Joyce Musser, Women's Ministry Director
